FROM THE ALUMNI

Dept. of Electrical and Electronics Engineering

Sanjo Sibi Moolamkunnam
Junior Research Fellow
Department of Electrical Engineering
Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Palakkad

I have immense pleasure to say that I am a proud alumnus of St. Joseph's College of Engineering and Technology, Palai. I finished my undergraduate degree program in Electrical and Electronics Engineering in 2019. The Department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering is one of the top Electrical Engineering departments in the state. The scope of Electrical and Electronics ranges from Power Systems to Microelectromechanical Systems. As an undergraduate student, I was quite curious to gain the breadth and depth of knowledge in the field of Electrical Engineering. Not only the power Engineering courses, but Programming, Instrumentation, and Embedded systems kept me quite tempted with their advanced features and functionalities. We had a bachelor's program to cover the basics of all these areas in Electrical Engineering. We were offered a variety of elective courses like Electric and Hybrid Vehicles, Renewable Energy Systems, Energy Management, Auditing, and Power Quality. This made us prepare for the power industry which is currently in the stage of a transition. The change in Electrical Power Engineering from copper wire-based systems to silicon-based systems is happening right now. The distribution systems are active distribution systems now a days. We got a clear picture of the active distribution systems from our own solar PV systems installed on the campus. We have an installed capacity of a 200 kW grid-tied solar PV system which is completely installed under the guidance of the Electrical Engineering Department of SJ CET. I could see the installation of the solar PV system, Grid-tied inverter, Net meter, and Replacement of old CTs and PTs when I was an undergraduate student at SJ CET. Our Electrical Systems including substation on campus and labs are well labeled so that students can learn in detail about these systems from our campus itself.

The gap between academia and industry is a big problem that the nation faces for years. But we were blessed to have a team of academicians under the leadership of Prof. P.V Varkey, who is close to the industry. We got a lot of opportunities like Internships, Industrial visits, and special training sessions from them during our bachelor's program. The industrial visits were well organized, and detailed presentations were given by Prof. P.V Varkey before each visit. The industrial visit to KSEBL, 400 kV substation Madakkathara and Mar Sleeva Medicity, Palai was an unforgettable experience because we attended a presentation with detailed diagrams and explanations before we went there. The department also runs a consultancy division for industries and a lot of industries are making use of those facilities at St. Joseph's College of Engineering and Technology, Palai. The labs of the Department of Electrical Engineering are so equipped that even the people from industries can come there and conduct their tests. The college management is so supportive and helpful to maintain the quality of facilities available for the students. The department started a new power systems lab when we were in the fourth year of college. I got a chance to help the faculty to make a relay testing kit for the lab. It was a very good experience to see all those processes and it is very difficult to make that testing equipment in any other educational institution.

Excellent training and mentoring that we got from the department is the reason for the career that we have right now. Many of my classmates are in core power industries and some of them are pursuing their higher education in some of the best institutions all around the world. I was fortunate enough to get into a Danish company after passing out of college. I was an Automation Engineer at Drawout ApS for two years. I worked on different robotics and automation projects for industries in Europe and other parts of the world. Due to my passion and interest in research and academia, I applied for a research position at the Indian Institute of Technology, Palakkad when I was working in the industry. Currently, I am working as a Junior Research Fellow at the Sensors and Electronic Instrumentation Laboratory at the Department of Electrical Engineering, IIT, Palakkad. I am very proud and blessed to be a part of this college as it has taught me many lessons for life.

Master of Computer Science and Applications.

As we all know College Life is one of the most remarkable and lovable times of an individual's life. SJ CET exposes us to whole new experiences which we always dream of experiencing after our UG life. We are so lucky to have our HOD sir, all the faculty members from our department also from other departments. One of the greatest assets that we get from the SJ CET is our beautiful friends. The most common memories people have of college life are definitely goofing around with friends. Moreover, we always look back at the times spent in our college canteen. It was considered the hub of every student where they enjoyed eating and chatting away with their friends.

The main difference of SJ CET from other colleges is the valuable placement training and support. 50+ companies are come to our college and most of the students are placed at various MNC like Infosys, TCS, UST Global, 6D Technologies, Federal Bank, ESAF Bank, Byju's App etc. With the help of placement training we got a job at the very end of our study. The next important thing is the extra curricular activities that are held in our college. Extracurricular activities and different fests like Sargam, Astra help us to develop their social skills and learn how to work in a team to achieve a shared goal. These activities allow us to get the opportunity to explore different areas of interest, increase self-confidence, build leadership skills and even improve grades. College life is known as one of the most memorable years of one's life. It is not only about the study but also about the overall development of an individual through various activities and challenges.
