St. Joseph's College of Engineering and Technology (Autonomous), Palai is an institution established by the Diocese of Palai to offer quality higher education in a value-based Christian environment. The college emphasizes discipline, hard work, and excellence, aiming to develop students both academically and personally. It holds several prestigious recognitions, including NAAC 'A' grade, NBA accreditation for multiple programs and ISO certifications, reflecting its commitment to quality and sustainability. With strong placement support, personality development programs, and state-of-the-art facilities, the college ensures students are well-prepared for successful careers. Located in a serene and eco-friendly campus, SJCET provides an ideal atmosphere for learning and growth.

medicity palai

A Temple of Health

Mar Sleeva Medicity Palai is a quaternary care hospital established by the Diocese of Palai. Dedicated to providing advanced medical facilities for all, the institution upholds the ethics, values, and principles of the Catholic Church. With patient care as the foremost priority, it seamlessly integrates modern medicine with traditional healing systems, including Ayurveda, Homeopathy, and Naturopathy, offering a truly holistic approach to health. The institution further envisions becoming a distinguished teaching center for medical and paramedical courses, ensuring continued service, education, and excellence in healthcare.

Hekmas, an Eastern Centre of Excellence, is a registered multidisciplinary trust dedicated to fostering learning, research, innovation, and collaborative development aligned with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Formed from the Nazrani Margam foundation, Hekmas unites institutions, industries, and experts to address real-world needs through meaningful partnerships with national and international research centers. Guided by professional teams, Hekmas provides strategic support and active networking. It serves as a vital hub for integrated knowledge, collaborative projects, and value-driven solutions with a commitment to practical impact and community benefit.
